LOS ANGELES CENTURY CITY
AT BEVERLY HILLS

The Japan America Society of Southern California was founded in 1909 to build economic, cultural, governmental and personal relationships between the people of Japan and America.

The Society is a non-profit, charitable and educational organization consisting of individuals and corporations with an interest in Japan and in United States–Japan relations.

Our membership is open to the general public and currently includes 140 corporate, and nearly 2,000 individual members.

The Society offers unique opportunities to become involved in the business and cultural relationship between the two countries. Our active calendar of events includes breakfast and luncheon programs, business networking mixers, weekend family events, and programs highlighting art, music, fashion, film, performing arts and other special activities.

Susan Hirasuna

Anchor / Reporter
KTTV FOX 11

Award winning broadcast journalist Susan Hirasuna is a hometown girl. She was born in Encino, reared in Simi Valley and graduated from the University of Southern California. She came to KTTV FOX 11 from Boston's WLVI-TV to become the weekend anchor in 1995. Since 2011, she has also co-hosted the weekend edition of Studio 11 LA.

In 2012, Hirasuna traveled to Japan as a fellow with Foreign Press Center. The fellowship allowed her to travel into the disaster area still affected by 2011's earthquake and tsunami. She brought back the people's stories of resilience and fortitude.

Hirasuna has also carved out a reputation as a true foodie. In her series, See Susan's Secret, she spotlighted the talents of well-known bartenders and celebrity chefs.

In the course of her career at Fox 11, she has anchored live coverage of earthquakes, wild fires and police pursuits. She says her most memorable moments on the anchor desk include the death of Princess Diana, the Northridge wild fires and the crash of Metrolink in Chatsworth.

Her work has garnered Golden Mikes from the Radio TV News Association and an Emmy and Emmy nominations for her half hour specials for Asian Pacific Heritage Month. She also received Emmy nominations for feature reporting, team coverage of the Metrolink crash, Outstanding Evening Newscast and a nomination in Boston for Best Anchoring.

She is asked often which is her favorite story or interview. In 2012, she interviewed the Archbishop Desmond Tutu and declared that her favorite interview of all time. "Just being in the room with him, I felt privileged and then there is that infectious laugh," said Hirasuna.

Hirasuna is a long time member of the Asian American Journalists Association and is a current board member.
